

Bio

Christian Roth, the multi-talented individual with dozens of skills and interests. IT, photography, classic cars, finance, construction, health & fitness, are just a few of the areas he is well-versed in. Never stopping learning and growing is his inner drive. He combines personal development with his life and professional experience to help his clients achieve their goals without detours. Christian helps entrepreneurs run a successful business AND enjoy a fulfilling partnership.

Questions

What is your expertise?

I help self-employed individuals and entrepreneurs become strong leaders by transforming their mindset and behavior. Their new mindset has a massive impact on their lives, both professionally and personally. They have fulfilling relationships and enjoy better health.

What is the particular challenge of your work? What is particularly important in it?

Showing people who are dissatisfied with their situation that their decisions have brought them to where they are now and that they can change things.

What do you do differently/better than your competitors? Do you have unique selling points?

Together with my wife, I accompany our clients on their journey from lack to a life of abundance. Our faith in God is a crucial component of this.

Our SOKO practical training with the ADLER SOCIAL COACHING Method® is the only educational offering in Europe with scientifically proven and measurable sustainability in personal development. No other educational provider in Europe offers such intensive and therefore sustainable development. Furthermore, the ASC Method® is the only educational offering in Europe in which each individual participant is evaluated in their development by an external, court-certified expert in the field of education. No other educational provider in Europe has such a high level of quality management.

How did you come to what you do today?

An interest in the human psyche and the desire to make better choices in life.

What is most important to you?

To show people that love is abundant and doesn't need to be conserved. The secret of life lies in serving and giving.

What is your next goal?

To help as many people as possible find a path to a fulfilling and happy life.

What is your motto?

Above all, guard your heart.

Contact

Websites: www.roth-christian.com, www.csroth.com

Instagram: www.instagram.com/christianroth.ch

Facebook: www.facebook.com/christianroth.ch

Youtube: www.youtube.com/@csroth

Tel. +41 79 5008695

Tel. +49 176 21517610

Training

Master of Computer Science and Business Administration

Certified Coach (Coaching Academy of Würzburger, Germany)

International NLP Master Practitioner (The Society of Neuro-Linguistic Programming)

SOKO Practical Trainer & Coach